President Clinton:

Dear President Clinton,
I am writing concerning legeslation introduced by Representative Michael Oxley (R-OH)called the 'Radio Broadcasting Preservation Act of 1999,' which would prohibit the FCC from continuing its proceeding on the creation of a low power radio service, as well as prohibit the FCC from ever being able to consider such a service again.
Oxley has already issued a press release on his new bill . It is nothing more than the 'party line' we have all already heard from the National Association of Broadcasters who want to maintain the "status quo" that has existed for years.
The right of the American people to make their own choice is at risk.Low power radio would be a great thing for the people and with the FCC allowing low power radio the waves could be regulated better than they are now with the FCC making criminals out of people who look at this as a hobby or as a different view point instead of being labled "pirate radio", I believe I am fully capable of making my own decisions even if I am disabled because I am an American and I served as a member of the U.S.Army Reserve so I know I have the right
