

Gentlemen:

It would be a significant change to allow low-power radio stations, operated by colleges and other non-profit entities, to again be part of the American broadcasting system. It would also be extraordinarily useful and valuable for the diversity of opinion necessary for a robust democracy and for the educational enterprise. I urge you to approve the proposal to readmit such entities to the airwaves.