

Dear Sirs--

I simply wish to voice my support for the proposal to re-instate low power radio. It is critically important that the power of media access be distributed more fairly and evenly. Clearly, the current situation, where large portions of radio markets are held by a very few, is not conducive to equal access. Equally important is the lack of diversity which is the result of small groups of self-interested companies determining what constitutes good music.

Truly, low power radio represents a form of protection of free speech which should not be denied the American people--it is a VERY good idea, and i strongly support the measure.

thank you for listening!

sincerely
