

I would like to see the proposed rules set forth in docket 99-25 protect and promote low power, community based broadcasting.

I would like to see the FCC provide licensing for very low power stations in the 1-10 watt range. Rules should be created to guarantee that low power stations are owned within the community they broadcast to, and limits should be set for the number of stations that can be owned by one individual or organization. I also think a certain percentage of new licenses should be reserved for non-profit organizations. I am opposed to the auctioning of new licenses to the highest bidder.

Thank you
