

Thank you for the opportunity to reflect my feelings on Low Power FM broadcast. I am soooo ready for the choice of multiple radio stations in Flagstaff, Arizona specifically, and everywhere it general. There are just a few stations here and all of them sound virtually the same. There are some stations (KZGL specifically) that try to see how sleazy and obscene they can get without generating complaint or intervention. Very immature and degrading. I want a broader choice and think this is a GREAT idea whose time is NOW. I am sick to death of the out of state executives deciding what I want to hear. The internet has sites that offer some really unique talented artists and industry specific news today. I want to be the one who decides the merit of a particular artist or news feed. The only problem with internet based broadcast is mobility. Until that is addressed, Low power FM is a great idea. Tom Price tomp@primenet.com
