

I am writing to express my support for the creation of a licensing system for low-power radio stations. I would also like licenses to be made available for very low power (1-10 watts) stations. To make sure that the public is able to take advantage of the new licenses in large cities with crowded FM bands, I would also ask that something be done to free some space for the citizens. I also ask that those currently being investigated for operating low-power stations be granted amnesty in light of the current developments and the fact that the airwaves have always belonged to the citizens and not the NAB. Perhaps it is they who need investigating.

Sincerely,
Scott Walker
