

Creating low power radio stations is an excellent idea. Our national radio is a travesty of repetitive, similar stations. This proposal will be a breath of fresh air. In addition, it is my belief that those people who operated low-watt radio stations illegally before should not be penalized. We should start with a clean slate. Given that I took the time to comment on this issue, you can appreciate how much it means to me.