

I tried to operate a 10 watt fm in Marion Il. in the early 90s in which I was notified to shut down and I complied immidiatly. The point is I made no money, but did it out of my love of broadcasting. The station sounded professional and we did public service stuff no one else would do because they were commercial. I am an announcer on licesensed station and would love to have a low power service. bless you for even considering it. Thank you.
