

I think that low power radio stations are a great idea.
I think they will encourage greater diversity, and more voices for the local community.