

I fully support the FCC's proposal to create low cost LPFM stations in our communities.
This will allow folks out in the country side like me to provide local information of interest to my neighbors.