

I would like to express my support for the creation of LPFM, a Low Power Radio Service. In a country where radio is controlled by a couple of immense and distant conglomerates, the diversity, personality and individuality these LPFM services would render are invaluable. Thank you very much for your time; I await your decision impatiently and with much excitement and high hopes.