RE: MM Docket 99-25

Dear Secretary:

I am writing to urge you to amend FCC regulations to ALLOW micropower community radio broadcasts.

I lived in Berkeley during the years that Free Radio Berkeley broadcast, and the station was a tremendous asset to the community. Such local stations are a far greater benefit to the public than the corporate monopoly of the major stations.

If you see your job as making radio actually serve the people of this country, rather than just profiting the corporations, you must act to ease all restrictions on stations operating at or below 100 watts.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
