

As a minority small business owner it is imperative for me, and others like myself, that LPFM radio stations be allowed. There are companies who own channels with no activity. These companies want to keep others from owning these channels thus eliminating competition. Those who do have channels that they are willing to sell make the selling price unattainable for a small business. I want to offer a niche music format in my community and make radio advertising available to other small business owners who otherwise would not be able to afford radio ads.
