

The internet is just one method by which the individual voice can be heard.

So is broadcasting.

If a party wishes to set up a transmitter and broadcast their own message, then let them. Freedom of speech is about allowing you to open your mouth and insert your foot, if you wish.

And who knows, the quality of information MIGHT just increase, due to a feeling of threat by large media conglomerates.