

I would like to see the availability of low power radio licenses. Minneapolis radio waves are ruled by 3 companys. They can't offer a diversity of programming that equally represents the people. I find this true in nearly every city in the US, it needs to change. The quality of the lower power stations programming may not suit the tastes of some, but it may for others, and that is what freedom is for. Please free the airwaves from the clutch of corporate america.

Thank you,
Andy
