

I think the proposal for low power FM stations is a great idea and wholeheartedly support it. I think this would be great for communities, especially in conjunction with local internet coverage. Just the right thing to do for the new millenium. Please do it and do not let the powers that be (the money) stop you.