

The freedom of speech, and the exercise it to the masses should not be restricted to those who can afford high powered broadcast equipment. Not offering license to broadcast to low wattage stations effectively outlaws the right to free speech to those who cannot afford to pay for it. I support the passage of any policy that allows low wattages stations to broadcast legally.