

In regards to the radio matter, I feel a more effective solution to "promoting competition" (as Mr. Kennard would say) is to disband the FCC and eliminate regulation -- which has stifled competition here for decades -- of all media (cable, radio, and broadband Internet).