

Many enthusiasts of music and the broadcast arts are willing and able to contribute to our public airwaves. They are currently not permitted to participate due to unfortunate restrictions that favor established players in the radio industry. Should the proposed proceeding be passed, community music would flourish and popular regard for radio broadcasting would be elevated.