

I believe low power radio communication is a good thing to have. It opens up the system for the free enterprise feed back fostering competition which has done our country very well and has proven to find the best and strongest solutions in the world today.