

I object to any further delays in the consideration of LPFM. I had read the comments made by one filer as submitted them and listed herein on 8/13/1999.

In their comments to justify extension of the comment period, they included the text of a dialogue between myself and others describing the problems we all had encountered in having the FCC include several filings of our comments.

I would truly appreciate the opportunity to have the comments that I filed twice in July and again in August included as part of the official record. I have given up with dealing with the FCC on that matter, however.

On the other hand, I also do NOT want the process upheld any further. Interpreting any online conversations that I had with any individuals should not be construed as a cause for any further delays in 99-25. No further delays, please. Implement LPFM now.
