

I am a seven year veteran of rock radio. The current state of FM radio is sad!! The corporate world has all but ruined it. It's high time that something was done about it. The idea of low power FM frequencies is a good one! I left radio nearly five years ago because I was fed up with all the nationwide formula formats! I would love to get back into radio and this could be the opportunity of a lifetime. Radio is supposed to be 'public domain', and its time that radio be given back to that deserving public!!!
More power to low power!!!!!!
