

I would like to start a low power FM station here in Putnam County, WV - something that broadcasts local high school ball games, local events, etc. We are within 30 miles of Charleston, WV but those stations don't cover the local events originating here in this county. I'm interested in broadcasting something that reaches a 6 mile radius from atop a hill with no more than 100 watts of power in stereo.