

I was told late about this Rule Making Proposal for Low Power F Broadcasting. I hope this will be read by someone at the FCC.

My name is Gerardo Arzola. I'm an Electronic Technician that works in Radio Communications. I'm a General Radiotelephone Operator License holder. Also an Amateur Radio Operator.

I always had in mind the desire to stablish a FM Broadcast. It is a desire that was always on my mind since I decided to study electronics. It motivated me to graduate with an specialization in radio communications.

Today I work providing repair and maintenance to a fleet of trunked radio service system. But is almost imposible for me to comply with the monetary requirements needed for the license and permits.

This new class of FM Broadcasting could be the key. The key that could open new horizons to a new and different service. A service Based on the community needs and not the Corporation that owns the station.

Of course I'm not talking about granting licenses and permits to anyone who wish it. But to stablish new rules and guides that permit people with the knowledge, discipline and experience to own and run a local FM Broadcasting facility for the community.
