

Yes, good Idea. There shouldn't be to many problems with proper planning and criteria set up for the licensees. The 100 Watt and lower power stations would make things interesting. These stations couldn't interfere too much with a 6000 watt station that can be heard from 45 miles and on several adjacent channels.

Michael Wiggins