MOTION TO ACCEPT THE FILING AS TIMELY FILED

Rockwell Collins, Inc. ("Rockwell Collins") hereby requests the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) accept as timely filed the attached comments originally due February 23, 2001 in the above referenced proceeding.¹ Rockwell Collins is a major manufacturer and integrator of avionics and Global Positioning System (GPS) equipment and systems for civilian and military markets. In addition to GPS equipment, Rockwell Collins manufactures a complete series of civilian and military aeronautical radio communications, navigation, and surveillance equipment. These include Microwave Landing System (MLS) receivers, Instrument Landing System (ILS) receivers, L-Band Distance Measuring Equipment (DME), Traffic Alert and Collision Avoidance units, Air Traffic Control Radar Transponders, L-Band aeronautical mobile satellite communications equipment, C-Band Radio Altimeters, and weather radars.

Due to the large volume of information released by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) in January 2001, Rockwell

¹ Public Notice, Comments Requested on Test Data Submitted by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration Regarding Potential Interference from Ultra-Wideband Transmission Systems, ET Docket No. 98-153, rel. January 24, 2001.

Collins' had great difficulty in coordinating the extensive travel schedules of key Rockwell Collins engineers who were critical in writing and reviewing the attached filing. Rockwell Collins also submits that no party will be prejudiced by the late filing, as our comments are concise and addresses a very important technical aspect of the NTIA submission.

Accordingly, Rockwell Collins respectfully requests the Commission to accept as timely filed the attached comments.

Respectfully submitted,

Rockwell Collins, Inc.
