

I think Bucyrus can be regarded as a rural community. It's located on a major east-west trucking route (US 30) and has fair wireless coverage along that route. However, if you stray north or south of that location you run into numerous dead spots.