

BPL offers a unique opportunity to offer lower priced broadband to more people which will provide economic benefits to both individuals and the nation as a whole. Greater communication path diversity will provide additional homeland security benefits. BPL should not only be permitted but should be encouraged.