

In the matter of BPL please consider a large scale test before granting approval. It no doubt would provide access to the Internet for many and that would be good; but the interference that it may cause for all users of the HF spectrum, not just Amateur Radio, may prove to be a loss too great to endure.

Once again, please perform a large scale test before granting approval; once the genie is out of the bottle it may not go back in.

Thank you for your time.
