

As one of thousands of FCC licensed radio amateurs, I am opposed to power line broad band internet transmissions. Why? Unless the broad spectrum (80 MHz) signals have a 30 Db suppression for amateur HF frequencies between 1.8 and 55 MHz, there will be total disruption of amateur communications, emergency and otherwise.