

One of the main responsibilities of Amateur Radio is to provide Emergency Communications. Anything that detracts from an Amateur Operator's ability to do that, is counterproductive to that responsibility. Because of the potential for interference, I think that broadband cummmunications over power lines, is not in the best interests of Amateur Radio and the public in general. Thank you for this opportunity to express my thoughts.

Larry Cunningham KE4YDI