

I think that it very unwise to allow and or support bpl due to the distruction of needed amature frequency reception. this is a decision that slaps the face of every ham operator who has helped or aided people in the past to allow bpl in the first place!