

My community is not able to get broadband access. We do not have access to cable or DSL. We are only a one hour drive from the nations capital and yet we must rely on a dial-up access that averages only 24k speeds. Broad band over the power lines would be an ideal answer for homes and businesses that need this service,