

I am opposed to Docket # 03-104.....The big utility corporations call it Broadband over Power Line. I call it a recipe for disaster. Authorization for this purpose will virtually render communications in the HF spectrum intolerable. Judging from the present power companies' poor management of their RFI from 60Hz, I wonder how they will do with millions of HF transmitters peppered around the neighborhoods? I envision it sounding something like a cross between CB channel 19 and a lightning storm. Please do not approve use of power line equipment for high-speed Internet access. Thank you! Leo J.
