

Many foreign countries have tried to implement BPL/PLC and have found it to cause severe interference to legally licensed HF radio stations, including amateur radio stations and radio telescope stations. The benefits of this service far outweigh the loss to national security of long range amateur and military communications. Any proposal relating to this service should be denied.