

I am opposed to this on the grounds of HF interference to Amateur users. Sending Broadband RF over unshielded cables (power lines) is a bad idea!

If the power companies will install shielded cables for this service we (hams) may be able to co-exist.