

I would like to oppose this motion of BPS. This will cause heavy interference to HAM communications. It will effectively render this type of communication useless in the presence of power lines, as has been proven in Australia and Japan to name but a few countries.