

I believe this is a grave mistake and will lead to incredible expense to all concerned in the end. The lack of adequate analysis and the failure of the Mr. Powell to listen to the "users" of the spectrum will, in the end, lead to failure, just as in all other projects in which the requirements of all users are not considered prior to implementation.