

I just heard of the proposed Broadband over powerline issue and think that it should not be approved due to the interference issues to ham radios. I carry my radio with me everywhere just in case of emergency and if I am trying to communicate during an emergency and am around this the harmonics will reduce the effectiveness of the radio communications. Just my two cents worth but I hope it makes a difference. Sincerely Kevin Olson