

Dear FCC: I would like to comment on this file. I would like to say that I am against it, even though I am a computer professional, and enjoy using the internet, I also enjoy using the amateur bands and was a Radioman in the US Navy. Allowing broadband digital signals on the nation's power grids will possibly cause such great interference that it may be unusable at times. My wish is that there would be independent testing done by a non-governmental, non-computer or related industry funded and operated entity. Assurance of unequivocal evidence from scientific testing that there will be no inter-service interference is paramount.
