

As an amateur radio astronomer and ham, an interference clear sky is a very important thing to me. BPL will open up more broadband access, and that's good, but it should not be done at the cost of the wireless spectrum.