

I am all for competition and we need it in the broadband area but, if the power companies are as responsive on interference complaints on broadband as they are on power line interference, the radio spectrum will be unusable for anyone using less than a 100kw.
Norm