

I oppose the use of broadband data transfer via power lines because it will create significant interference to amateur radio, emergency, and other communications. Power lines are unshielded and the broadband energy they will radiate will pollute existing services.