

Local Power 'companys do not respond to complaints about routine noise problems now, their pet answer is that it is your equipment. They also do not have the training to find such problems when they are brought to their attention. I do not foresee this improving in the near future. If this is authorized it is just going to make their interference problems worse and make it impossible for others to deal with their uncaring and defensive attitude.

Thank You

John Wiman