

Dear Sirs, I strongly oppose Docket-03-104 Broadband over power line. Its has strong potential to disrupt television and radio reception. I am an amateur radio and MARS operator and rely on weak signal communications modes.

Any activity that raises the noise floor can adversely affect my hobby and public service work. At my location and almost anywhere else in the USA broadband is already available through phone lines and over cable. Broadband over powerline would offer no advantage while creating a substantial interference problem for the FCC and the public. Sincerely Dr. George C. Rybicki K4MLB/AFA2VI
