

I am against using BPL as a medium for providing internet and data communications. This would entirely ruin amateur radio, as no one would be able to hear anything on HF, which is the backbone medium of amateur radio. I am certain that the push for BPL is monetarily motivated but, there's more to life than money.