

The proposed BPL communications technology is flawed. Studies in Asia and Europe have confirmed that the service promised will simply not be delivered to the consumer. The other negative is an almost infinite potential for disruption of existing communication in both the military, aviation, commercial and amateur radio segments. The special interest groups that will benefit most from BPL are Email Spammers, Pornographers, Power Company Monopolies and the Microsoft Corporation.

the Microsoft Corporation,