

I am against this because it because the resulting RFI will probably render the amateur service as ineffective if needed during an emergency. Thank you!