

Please reconsider the permission of PBL. The usefulness of ham radio could be lost with the consequence that skilled technicians would not be available in future emergencies. Unless Ham Radio is viable, new users will not materialize and a talent pool will be lost to military and civilian emergency services. The local power company has not been able or willing to correct power line noise. It is safe to assume they will not correct leakage from BPL.
Thank you