

From what I can tell from some tests done by W1RFI, the ARRL's interference focal point, BPL would have such an impact on Amateur Radio as to make it virtually useless. Technology rich countries like Japan have soundly rejected this. Please consider the impact. If other users of bandwidth had this dramatic of an effect I don't think they would be approved. Please contact me if you have any questions, Sincerely, David Mendenhall KG6MCL